When you have an EVDS Healthy Horse Dental Party, it's just like a Tupperware party.

You become the host and organise your friends to come over with their horses, have nibbles and drinks while Oliver attends to your horses. If your friends are working, then they can drop off their horses on their way to work, and pick them up after work. We can take photos of the horse's mouth and text them to the owner.

But wait there's more: it's not a party without party games. Oliver will bring party hats, provide some games and prizes.
